

Senate Trying To Break Jam In Money Bills

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—Senate leaders tried hard today to break loose the $30,000,000 pile-up of money bills.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), the Democratic leader, said he would move to get the $5,647,724,000 foreign aid measure back to the floor sometime during the day.

This is a key log in the jam but even if released it may get tied up a second time in a confused parliamentary tangle.

The senate ordered the bill returned to the appropriations committee last week on the grounds that five disputed amendments contained policy-making legislation—which amendments to appropriation bills aren't supposed to do.

The committee put together a revised bill with about the same money content—but it kept three of the amendments in the bill in re-written form.

Lucas told a reporter he will raise a point of order (a challenge) against these amendments in an effort to have them thrown out.

But Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) said if Lucas makes a point of order, then he (McClellan) may fight to have the bill sent back to the committee again.

When Lucas raises a point of order—Vice President Barkley will be required to rule whether or not the riders contain new legislation.

Whatever his ruling, senators said an appeal is almost certain. And this could plunge the foreign aid program into deeper confusion.

McClellan denies he is trying to force the dumping of surplus farm products on the European market.

ECA Chief Paul Hoffman says such a restriction would just about wreck the recovery effort and at the same time give Communists grounds for the charge that America wants to dump its surpluses on Europe.

Lucas said he will ask that the $7,600,000,000 independent offices money bill be set aside for the foreign aid bill.

The senate is moving slowly through the independent offices bill with an economy bloc trying to pare down almost every item.

HEARINGS POSTPONED

Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—Senators today postponed hearings from tomorrow until Monday on the administration's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program amid indications that they will attempt to reduce it in size and scope.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said the joint foreign relations and armed services committees will seek "the widest possible area of agreement" among members on the foreign arms plan before asking Senate action.

He spoke out as W. Averell Harriman, the Marshall plan's roving ambassador in Europe, urged the House Foreign Affairs committee to approve the arms program. He said it is needed promptly to "protect the growing generation from war."

Socialite Murdered At Charlotte, N.C.

Police Intensify Manhunt In Mystery Slaying

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 2 (P)—The shotgun slaying of a 68-year-old Charlotte society matron remained a mystery today as police intensified a manhunt.

Mrs. Esley O. Anderson, sr., was killed by a shotgun blast here early yesterday morning, in her fashionable, Myers Park home. Also critically wounded was Wilford Randleman, 48-year-old butler.

Police Chief Frank N. Littlejohn ordered the entire city detective force to duty until the case is solved. He also placed additional uniformed policemen on duty.

"We'll work straight through mealtime," the chief said, "until we find the man who did this."

Police were working on a dozen different clues. But none so far have flushed the slayer.

Mrs. Anderson was found fully clothed. But the disturbed condition of the bedroom indicated she put up a struggle before dying from blasts through the shoulder and hand.

There was also some indication that robbery was a motive, according to the police.

Ishpeming Business Places Destroyed In $100,000 Blaze

Ishpeming, Mich. (P)—Three buildings in Ishpeming's business district were practically destroyed by fire this morning in one of the most spectacular blazes recorded here in years.

Burned were these East Pearl street business places: Economy Food store, Meyers Construction Co. office, Leo Tousignant's Wholesale Candy and Tobacconery, a beauty shop, law office and four upstairs apartments. It was estimated the loss would exceed $100,000.

The fire started in the Tousignant warehouse and was reported caused by the explosion of an oil burner there, but this was not confirmed, according to Arthur Brown, fire chief.

Arsene Tousignant, 78, father of the wholesale dealer, suffered severe burns on the face and hands fighting the fire in the warehouse and is in the Ishpeming hospital.

Assistant Attorney General Meredith H. Doyle, said he was "surprised and disappointed" at the result. The defendants smiled, but showed no other signs of joy.

Marquette Banker And Wife Sued For $250,000 By Sister

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 2 (P)—The president of the First National Bank of Marquette and his wife are facing a $250,000 suit for an alleged attack upon the banker's sister.

Mrs. Marie Tonella charges that her brother, young Kaufman, and his wife, Ruth, assaulted her at Granite Loma lodge, Nov. 14, 1946, and that she suffered a fractured skull, multiple bruises and contusions as a result.

When contacted this morning Mrs. Tonella said the alleged attack was "purely unprovoked" but declined to comment on any motive or motives.

She explained the long delay between the alleged attack and filing of the suit by saying she decided to take action when further medical examination revealed the "extent of injuries." The legal declaration stated that the defendants had been absent from the state for various periods after the alleged assault occurred.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were not available for comment.

The plaintiff charges that the defendants beat and choked her and that Kaufman, holding her *** his sister's head between his hands, struck her head against a rock.

John J. Walsh, attorney for the defense, has filed a motion to dismiss Mrs. Tonella's case on the ground that the summons bears the endorsement of Bernard P. Barasa, sr., and Samuel A. Rinella, Chicago attorneys. The defense maintains the summons is illegal because neither Barasa nor Rinella is a member of the Michigan state bar.

The Kaufmans' motion for dismissal is scheduled for hearing during the September circuit court term.

School Aid Tossed To Labor Committee

Political Hot Potato Up For Test Today

Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—The political hot potato of voting federal money for the nation's grade and high schools was tossed today toward the House Labor committee by Rep. Baughman (D-N.C.).

He told a reporter he planned to insist on a vote on the issue, but he was not sure when the test might come. The committee was to meet behind closed doors.

Some committee Democrats, eleven of whom met quietly yesterday afternoon on the subject, predicted a compromise bill would be approved by the committee. Some others in the meeting doubted this.

Prominent house members have told reporters that Democratic leaders do not want to see the issue come to an open clash this year. Some leaders acknowledge this, but will not allow newsmen to quote them by name.

The core of the controversy is whether federal money should be granted to non-public schools for any purpose.

An aid bill passed by the senate in April would allow it in states which allocate some state money to private schools. A bill by Barden would bar federal money from non-public schools under all circumstances, regardless of state laws on the subject.

Harriman made the appeal before the house foreign affairs committee.

As he testified, Secretary of State Dean Acheson went into a staid behind closed doors with members of the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees.

This combined group is expected to open hearings soon—perhaps tomorrow—on the arms aid program.

Harriman told the House committee that "I earnestly believe we are winning the struggle for peace and freedom in Europe."

But, he emphasized, any delay in shipping arms to America's European Allies would create doubts which might reverse this trend.

The ambassador spoke out as Democrats joined with Republicans on the committee in calling for more details on President Truman's request for approval of a $1,400,000,000 program to help friendly nations arm against Soviet aggression.

The Democrats, unlike their Republican colleagues, indicated willingness to take the program on faith if the details they seek are not forthcoming.

Specifically, they want to know whether there is any ironclad agreement that the nations receiving American arms will use them as a team if action becomes necessary.

Ex-secretary of state and wartime army chief of staff George Marshall wholeheartedly endorsed the arms-aid program in an off-the-cuff discussion with the committee yesterday.

While refusal to approve it, he said, might be a minor economy now, it could result in the expenditure of untold billions later.

Back in 1939, Marshall recalled, Congress was reluctant to provide funds to meet the requests of the armed services. Had the requests been met, he said, billions of dollars and thousands of lives could have been saved through the whittling of at least six months from the length of World War II.

CHANNEL SWIMMERS MEET—Shirley May France (right), 16, American school girl who will try to swim the English channel in the next two weeks, meets two other prospective channel swimmers in Dover, England. Mrs. Willi Groes Van Rijnse, 31-year-old Dutch housewife, and 17-year-old British schoolboy Philip Mickman said they would try to swim the treacherous 19-mile route "on the first good day." The Dutch woman missed by only a mile and a half in her first try July 26. Fifteen pounds of prime beefsteaks were air expressed by NEA Service this week to Shirley, who complained in England that she could not keep up her strength on English rations. Fred S. Ferguson, President of NEA, made arrangements to have regular shipments of steak sent to the swimmer by airplane twice a week during her training period. The meat will be frozen and packed in dry ice. (NEA RadioTelephoto)

Congressmen Call For More Details On Arming Europe

Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—W. Averell Harriman, the Marshall Plan's roving ambassador in Europe, today urged Congress to approve the administration's foreign arms program promptly "to promote the growing generation from war."

Harriman made the appeal before the house foreign affairs committee.

As he testified, Secretary of State Dean Acheson went into a staid behind closed doors with members of the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees.

This combined group is expected to open hearings soon—perhaps tomorrow—on the arms aid program.

Ford Plants Start Strike Vote Monday

Detroit, Aug. 2 (P)—Balloting will start Monday in a state-conducted election to clear away the last legal obstacle to a strike against the Ford Motor Co.

Some 80,000 Ford production workers, members of the CIO United Auto Workers, will participate in the three-day election.

Noel P. Fox, chairman of the Michigan Labor Mediation board, said yesterday the voting would take place at the Ford plants. The largest single election will be held among 60,000 employees at the Ford Rouge plant in Dearborn.

Officers of the UAW have asked the strike vote in connection with their current demands on Ford for $100-a-month pensions, health and welfare benefits and an unspecified hourly wage increase.

A union conducted vote showed that Ford workers in Michigan and other states favored a strike 7 to 1.

The state vote is necessary under Michigan's Bonine-Tripp labor law.

Negotiations on a new Ford contract to replace one that expired July 15 have been going on for eight weeks. The pact is being extended on a day-to-day basis as long as talks continue.

Ford spokesmen said yesterday they had no counter-offer in mind. Twice the company has asked the UAW to accept an 18-month wage freeze. Both times the suggestion has been rejected.

Truman Appointees Assured Senate OK

Senate Vacancy Creates Backwash Rivalry

By JACK BELL
Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—The double appointment moving attorney general Tom Clark to the supreme court and Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) into the justice department seemed today to have a clear path to Senate approval.

But the backwash may produce conflicting bids by Senator Stennis (D-Miss.) and Senator Kerr (D-Okla.) for a coveted place on the Senate's state handling finance committee. Stennis is a States Rights supporter; Kerr an administration backer.

McGrath's acceptance yesterday by President Truman's offer of the attorney generalship cleared the way for the official action by President Truman to nominate both him and Clark.

Clark's acceptance of the supreme court appointment, to fill the place vacated by the death of associate justice Frank Murphy, had been a foregone conclusion.

McGrath's decision to take the cabinet post was announced at the White House after the Rhode Island Senator had consulted with his home folk about his Senate successor.

Whoever that successor is, he will have to go to the bottom of the Democratic list in the Senate in committee assignments. Other Senators may shift committees to fill the vacancies which will be created by McGrath's resignation after he is confirmed for attorney general.

San Francisco, Aug. 2 (P)—Iva Toguri (Tokyo Rose) D'Aquino was good in a disc jockey job. Most of those who heard the replays of her broadcasts before a federal judge agreed to that today.

But only Judge Michael J. Roche, the jury, the attorneys and reporters were furnished earphones to hear the recordings yesterday in Mrs. D'Aquino's treason trial. So the "zero hour" program on playback was dull business for the spectators.

Defense attorneys seemed not a bit worried over the context of the programs, and most newsmen expressed the opinion the spoken feminine voice carried less impact than did the printed transcript.

BARREL MILL BURNS
Detroit (P)—A one-story frame barrel factory owned by the Jacob Davis Barrel and Cooper Co. was destroyed by fire Monday night. Loss from the blaze of undetermined origin was estimated at $10,000.

"BLACK CROW" DEAD—

George Moran, above, oldtime vaudeville and radio entertainer, died Monday at the age of 67 in Oakland, Calif. He was known as a member of the comedy team of Moran and Mack, the original "Two Black Crows", and made "goofy feathery" a household word during the 20's. Charles E. Mack, his partner in the act, was killed in an automobile accident in 1934.

Gen. Royce Gives Up His Economic Post

Ill Health Blamed For Quitting State Job

Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 2 (P)—The surprise resignation of Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce as director of the Department of Economic Development was announced yesterday by the Economic Development commission.

Royce, a retired air force officer, said ill health forced the move. The resignation is effective immediately.

The commission, meeting here, announced a successor would be appointed in 60 days. Meanwhile, Commission Chairman Gervase T. Murphy will assume the executive responsibilities of the department until a new director is named.

The commission also decided to retain Don C. Weeks as chief of the department's industrial development division, but it refused to issue any statement on his continuation as deputy director.

Speculation has been rife for some months that Weeks, former director of the now defunct state planning commission, was to be eased out.

Royce was appointed director at $9,500 a year in February, 1948. He was the first to head the department after it was created by the 1947 legislature to replace the planning commission.

Born in Marquette, Royce was appointed to West Point from Hancock where he grew up. Soon after starting his 38 years of military service, he entered military aviation.

He was commandant of Selfridge Field in the middle 30's and served in the Middle East and Europe in World War II.

Only $2,100 Left
By Justice Murphy:
$1,600 Rent Owed

Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—The late Justice Frank Murphy left an estate here of only $2,100—and $1,600 of that is due the Washington hotel where he lived.

This was disclosed today in papers filed in a District of Columbia court.

George Murphy, the jurist's brother, previously had said that Murphy left only a small estate in Michigan.

Justice Murphy died July 19 in Detroit without leaving a will. His only survivors are his brother George, a sister, Marguerite Murphy Teahan, and a niece, Sharon Murphy, all live in Michigan.

Bob Hope Tumbles From Wooden Steed, Lands In Hospital

Hollywood, Aug. 2 (P)—There's an empty saddle out at Paramount studio today—and Bob Hope's the man who isn't in it.

Hope is in Hollywood Presbyterian hospital with a wrenched back suffered yesterday when he fell from a saddle while making a movie.

His steed was a wooden barrel, rocked by Lucille Ball as part of a gag sequence in the film.

The fall knocked Hope out. His doctor said the comedian would remain abed several days.

Hankow And Canton Rail Line Cut Off

By SPENCER MOOSA

Canton, Aug. 2 (P)—The Communists drove their multi-headed southward offensive deeper into Central China today. The Red gains were acknowledged by the Nationalists.

In the vital ricebowl province of Hunan, the Communists again severed the Canton-Hankow railway—this time 313 miles north of this refugee Nationalist capital. The Reds pushed their drive to outflank the main Hunan defense force.

In neighboring Kiangsi province the Red spearheads moved southward in a threat to Nationalist forces which had pushed from Hunan in attempt to cut the Red supply lines.

Far away from the main fighting front, the Communists also pressed deeper into Kansu province in a new offensive against the vast area of northwestern China ruled by Moslem warlords.

This was the picture in Hunan given by official Nationalist dispatches:

Lukow Captured
Communists driving from the east took the rail town of Lukow. This is between Changsha, the provincial capital, and Hengyang, junction point for the Canton-Hankow line and the Kiangsi railway. The Reds gave up Chuchow on the line in the same area Sunday.

Other Red forces moving down from the north into Hunan carried the threat of outflanking Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi's Nationalist armies from the west. One spearhead neared Yiyang, 50 miles northwest of Changsha. Another took Taoyuan in a highway drive southwest towards Yuanling, 170 miles west of Changsha.

In Kiangsi, the Reds seemed to be endangering Nationalist forces which yesterday were reported at Anfu, 150 miles east of the Canton-Hankow railway between Changsha and Yengyang.

Red troops based at Taiho on the Kan river 270 miles north-northeast of Canton took steps to protect the flank for a Communist thrust south. They sent another column southwest in the direction of Suichuan, 235 miles from Canton.

Official reports said Nationalist planes scored direct hits Monday on Red Gen. Lin Piao's headquarters at Hankow and destroyed it. There were no details.

Government Short $1,478,653,000 For The Month of July

Washington, Aug. 2 (P)—The treasury reported today the government ran $1,478,653,000 in the red for July, the first month of fiscal 1950.

The first month's deficit, or excess of spending over income, was less than in the first month of the last fiscal year.

Fiscal 1949 showed a $1,644,656,000 deficit for the first month. (July is always a poor month for government income).

At the end of the year, last June 30, the total deficit for that year was $1,811,440,000.

Mrs. Walkenhauser's Father Dies Sunday

Edward C. Lobb, 80, a resident of Bessemer for the past 62 years, and father of Mrs. Ebbette Walkenhauser of Escanaba, died at 4 a. m. Sunday at his home in Bessemer.

Mr. Lobb, who was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Granville B. Lobb, early pioneers on the Gogebic range, was born in Houghton in September 1868. He worked as hoisting engineer at the Colby mine in Bessemer and later was machinist with the Oliver Iron Mining company at the Tilden mine. He retired in 1927.

He is survived by his wife, five sons, six daughters, nine grandchildren and one great grandchild. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at Bessemer from the First Presbyterian church and burial will be made in Hillcrest cemetery. He is the last of his immediate family, his parents, five brothers and one sister having preceded him in death.

KIWANIS CLUBS WILL CONVE

District Convention To Be Held In Appleton

District Governor Dr. John H. Nickell, Oconomowoc, today announced that 1,000 registrations are anticipated for the 31st annual district convention of the Wisconsin Upper Michigan District of Kiwanis International. The convention slated for Appleton, Wis., August 21-22-23 is chairmanned by Gustav J. Keller, president of the Appleton Kiwanis club. Convention program is under the direction of Earl Huth, Appleton.

The district is composed of 85 clubs and 5,500 members located in 15 divisions in the two states. Fred Johnson, president of the Escanaba Kiwanis club, will attend. Dr. Nickell will preside at all sessions with the assistance of the 15 lieutenant governors. Other officers who will assist and participate in the program are Frank J. Horak, Oconomowoc, district treasurer; Glenn M. Harrison, Wausau, district secretary and various district committee chairman.

Convention proceedings will officially open at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 21, when the district board will convene. A district song competition, directed by Prof. Illis, Madison, will highlight the afternoon program. Various musical groups from the individual clubs will participate for awards and trophies.

A welcome supper is scheduled for 6 p. m. following which the annual "Memorial Services" will be held at Lawrence college auditorium. Clemens E. Lueck, Ripon, past district governor, will deliver the memorial address.

An elaborate program for the three day event has been planned by the convention committees. Special entertainment for the ladies is being arranged. All registrations are to be mailed direct to the Appleton Kiwanis club.

French Youths, Tracing Father Marquette Route, Plan Visit To Escanaba

Four young Frenchmen are back in St. Ignace today prepared to continue their long canoe journey tracing the route of Pere Jacques Marquette in 1673, a route that will take them along the north shore of Lake Michigan with stops at Escanaba and Menominee.

IN ESCANABA AUG. 10
St. Ignace, Mich. (AP)—Four young Frenchmen following the footsteps of Father Marquette will leave St. Ignace at noon today for Green Bay, Wis. Proceeding by canoe, they plan to make stops in Manistique Aug. 6, Escanaba Aug. 10, Menominee Aug. 14, and to reach Green Bay Aug. 17.

Yesterday the four youths, French Rover Scouts, made a side trip to the city of Marquette where they presented a plaque to Mayor John J. O'Neil, a gift from Laon, the home city of Father Marquette. Accompanying the plaque was a scroll signed by descendants of the Marquette family in France.

Calling themselves the "Marquette team", the young men are Jean Raspail and Philippe Andrieu, writers; Jacques Bouchard, an insurance agent, and Yves Kordendau, an architectural student. Kordendau is 21, the others 24.

They arrived in the United States three weeks ago, entering Georgian Bay on the route of Father Marquette who, in 1673, journeyed from Three Rivers, Canada, to New Orleans. The side trip to Marquette was by automobile. They returned to St. Ignace to resume a canoe voyage that will bring them to New Orleans in November.

State Okehs Full Pay, No Vacation Loss For Guards

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—The State Civil Service Commission has approved full pay and no loss of vacation time for state employees attending annual National Guard field training encampments.

This was revealed today by Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general.

The commission will require that guardsmen to be eligible for the full pay military leave must have been employed by the state at least four months.

The state had previously only made up the difference between guard pay and state employees' salary while they were in camp.

Gen. Moran said the commission's decision will help the guard sell the full pay idea to other employers.

George Bergman Resumes Charge Of Palace Market

George Bergman, Escanaba business man who formerly operated the Palace Market, 1115 Ludington street, has resumed full charge and management of that establishment effective immediately.

During the nearly 20 years that Bergman was operating the business previously a full line of groceries and meats was sold and serviced. In the last ten years previous to 1946 a food locker plant was started and built to serve the nearby area. This plant was one of the very first to be established in the Upper Peninsula and has grown to a 600 unit locker plant.

A complete line of groceries and meats will be available immediately. All services desired for food locker patrons such as freezing and storing meats, fudge, and other foods, packaging and labeling custom butchered meats, cartons and containers needed for storing frozen foods are provided.

Some renovation and painting has taken place during the past few days. This work is now completed and business is being conducted on a normal basis.

Marie and Chewamagon. The Rover Scouts also visited Mackinac Island, where they were greeted by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Father Joseph Ling, and Boy Scout executives from Michigan and Wisconsin.

L. D. GODDARD, HANCOCK, DIES

Served As City Engineer In Escanaba

Hancock, Mich.—Leslie Goddard, of 922 Summit street, Hancock, prominently known in the Copper Country, where he held the position of claims examiner for the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission, passed away late Saturday afternoon in St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. Goddard's death was due to a heart condition. He was a patient in the hospital since Tuesday, July 19.

The deceased was principal claims examiner and assistant branch manager in the Hancock office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission. He also was head adjudicator benefit claims examiner in Calumet and L'Anse. Mr. Goddard came to the office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission in 1938, when the payment of compensation benefits was first begun.

Escanaba City Engineer

Mr. Goddard was born July 16, 1885, in Gladbrook, Iowa. He was graduated in civil engineering from the University of Michigan in 1915 and held important posts in his profession before becoming associated with the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission. He served as an engineer for the Michigan State Highway department and held the positions of city engineer at LaPorte, Ind., and Escanaba, Mich. Mr. Goddard was a consulting engineer at L'Anse and Manistique. He maintained a private office in L'Anse as a consulting engineer.

Mr. Goddard was a veteran of World War I and a member of Alfred Erickson Post of the American Legion in whose affairs he was an active participant and by its membership valued for his leadership and advice. Mr. Goddard was a captain in the Army Engineers Corps in World War I and a member of the Reserve Officer Corps. He was stationed in Washington, D. C., during the war and traveled extensively throughout the east in the inspection of arsenals. His army title gave him the familiar sobriquet of "Cap," by which he was known to his many friends.

Mr. Goddard was a charter member of the L'Anse Post of the American Legion and was active in the American Legion for a period of 30 consecutive years. He served as commander of the L'Anse post of the American Legion and was a past commander of the Copper Country Sector of the Legion. He held the offices of historian for Alfred Erickson Post, employment officer and for a number of years, service officer. He was a vice commander of the Fifth American Legion zone and as such was an important figure in the formulation of state department policies. He was a member of the Forty and Eight society of Calumet, Post No. 20, and of the Copper Country Post Commanders club of the American Legion.

Mr. Goddard was active in many civic matters and was particularly interested in Boy Scout activities. He was a district committee member for the Hiawatha Council, Boy Scouts of America, and his activities in youth work extended to the former Copper Country Council, Boy Scouts of America, and in the organization of the Alfred Erickson Post troop of Scouts. He served also as a troop leader in Escanaba.

Mr. Goddard was a member of the Masonic order and of Trinity church, Episcopal, of Houghton, having served the congregation as a vestry member.

Surviving are his widow, Helen; a daughter, Miss Marjorie Goddard of Marquette, Ill., and two brothers, the Rev. Harvey Goddard of Washington, D. C., and Fred C. Goddard of Ann Arbor.

Cleveland, O., Wife Puts Exotic Satira In Spotlight Again

Cleveland, Aug. 2 (AP)—Dancing Patricia "Satira" Schmidt of Toledo is in the limelight again. The 24-year-old creator of exotic dances was named correspondent in a separate maintenance suit filed by a Cleveland housewife yesterday.

Mrs. Louise Ann Salupo, 34, mother of three children, said in a petition that her husband, Sebastian, 35, spent this last weekend with Miss Schmidt in Calumet City, Ill.

Last October, Miss Schmidt was released on a presidential pardon from the Guanabacoa women's prison in Cuba after serving more than a year for killing her married lover, John Moe, Chicago attorney. The slaying occurred aboard Moe's yacht, "Satira," as it lay in Havana harbor.

Truman's Defense Views Presented

Grand Rapids, Mich., (AP)—President Truman, according to his military aide, favors a "small well-trained active military force, with the difference made up by reserve contingents."

Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan quoted the president at a news conference here to bulwark his own stand. The military aide contended that during times of reduced expenditures emphasis should be put on the reserve program.

The president, said Gen. Vaughan, believes that "you can get more for your defense dollar by training the reserve."

Excellent Grouse Hunting Expected In Eastern U.P.

By KENDRICK KIMBALL

Newberry, Mich.—Best ruffed grouse shooting in 20 years and plenty of sharp-tailed grouse in open areas are promised fall gunners in the eastern portion of Upper Peninsula by Pat Furlong, district conservation chief at Newberry.

Both birds have come up with large broods usually ranging from 10 to 12 chicks. Fifteen have been reported.

In a "where to go" directory for Detroit and Lower Michigan gunners, Furlong lists promising sharp-tailed cover within a couple hours drive of St. Ignace. Ruffed grouse overlap sharp-tails at swampy edges of all the areas, predominantly open country containing pin cherries, small fruits and some brush.

Opening Oct. 1

All are excellent for far ranging dogs.

The 20-day season opens Oct. 1. Limits on ruffed grouse are 5 per day, 6 in possession, 25 per season; for sharp-tails and prairie chickens, 3 per day, 6 in possession, 15 per season. Prairie chickens are not plentiful enough in most covers to be a serious consideration.

Here are the promising covers as listed by Furlong:

Eight Mile Corners, north of Newberry, several thousand acres.

Danaher Plains, northwest of Newberry, a full township.

Bullock Ranch, west of Seney, 30,000 to 40,000 acres. A few prairie chickens here.

Carp River Plains, between Trout Lake and Brevort, 3,000 to 4,000 acres.

Caffey Plains, 2,000 acres.

Other Big Sites
East branch of Big Two Hearted River 30 miles northeast of Newberry, 1,000 acres in a fire burn.

Newberry Lumber and Chemical Co. slashings on new Tahquamenon Falls road from Newberry, several thousand acres.

Hendrick's Quarry country on M-48 north of Garnet, 5,000 acres.

"While walking through a 350-acre burn along Silver Creek near Newberry an officer flushed 35 mature sharp-tails," Furlong said. "That gives a good index to the supply. Many hens undoubtedly skulked away with their chicks."

HOOK FAILS IN ELECTION TEST

Sen. Ferguson's Victory Was Challenged

By C. YATES McDANIEL

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Former Congressman Frank Hook failed completely in his challenge of Sen. Ferguson's re-election last November. Hook did succeed in getting Michigan bracketed with West Virginia as the target for criticism of their election procedures.

The Senate unanimously echoed Sen. Vandenberg's opinion that Ferguson came out of the contest investigation "without a shadow of a cloud on his credentials."

The Senate also backed Sen. Lodge's (R-Mass.) stand that the reports on both investigations should be made public "for the information of voters" in the two states.

Michigan's share in this implied criticism might have been considerably less had political and prestige considerations not placed the two cases in the same action basket. The lone Republican member of the elections subcommittee, Sen. Knowland (Cal.), didn't think they merited the same treatment. "They were very different," he told a reporter.

Knowland said the 18 months investigation of the 1946 West Virginia contest was conducted by direction of the committee. He said the committee met only once on the Michigan case, "only to authorize a check of voting machines that Michigan wanted cleared for a state election. We did not authorize the investigators to tarry as long as they did in the state."

The Californian said the report submitted to the Senate was "solely the work of the investigators."

Reports on the Michigan and West Virginia cases are alike only in their conclusions that neither Sens. Ferguson nor Kilgore were directly or indirectly responsible or had any knowledge of any of the allegations made by the contestants.

Otherwise, the reports don't sound like they are talking about two sections of the same country.

In Michigan the investigators said they found "faulty and inadequately administered elections procedures, inadequate facilities to take care of the heavy vote, arbitrary disqualification of some votes split between the Democratic and Wallace-Progressive tickets, and violation of the state's election supervision and checking laws."

They also found that "these irregularities" had no particular effect upon the outcome of the election (Ferguson had a 44,821 vote margin), and were not "aimed at particular individual voters."

S.S. So. American To Continue Stops At Munising Dock

Munising, Mich.—The S. S. South American will stop at Munising whenever weather permits, Arthur D. Wood, public relations chairman of the Munising-Alger Chamber of Commerce, has been informed by E. J. Goebel of the Georgian Line.

Mr. Goebel's letter reads as follows:

"You will recall that the schedule of our SS South American calls for dropping Munising after August 1.

"We have today advised the Captain that when in his opinion weather permitting, he can continue to put in the call at Munising on Tuesday, he is authorized to do so. Therefore, it is entirely possible that on some Tuesdays in August the SS South American will continue to call at Munising at her regularly scheduled time.

"This action is taken by us because of the fact of the extreme favorable reaction of our passengers to Munising and to the kindness and hospitality displayed by your Chamber of Commerce and business men of the community."

JESUITS BUILD CHURCH AT SOO

First Was Established Back In 1668

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Sunday, July 31 marked a step toward the third Jesuit-staffed church in Sault Ste. Marie since 1668.

The Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the Marquette diocese, blessed the cornerstone of the new St. Isaac Jogues church on Marquette avenue on Sunday at 4 p. m.

The new church will mark the third establishment of a Jesuit-staffed church in the past three centuries.

The first was in 1668, when Father Claude Dablon, S. J., and Jacques Marquette, S. J., established the first permanent mission at Sault Ste. Marie. A map of the Great Lakes region drawn by Father de Charlevoix shows the Mission de Sainte Marie located below the Sault Rapids, according to Father Paul Prud'homme, S. J. The site is now under water because of dredging in the area, Father Prud'homme believes.

The first church was destroyed by fire on Jan. 27, 1871, and another larger church was built to replace it. Father Prud'homme said it was abandoned about 1706.

The first Jesuit known to have died in Sault Ste. Marie was Father Charles Albani, who died on Jan. 11, 1696.

Father Prud'homme sets 1846 as the date of the next founding of a Jesuit church in the Sault. They said it until 1912, he said, when Father John J. Stenglein was appointed pastor of St. Mary's by the bishop.

The new church is named for a martyr of the order, St. Isaac Jogues, who is one of the first known Jesuits to visit the Sault area.

Father Prud'homme said Father Jogues and Father Charles Raymbault, S. J., were invited to the Sault area by Indians who had visited Fort Sainte Marie on Georgian Bay, near what is now Mid## land, Ont. The two Jesuits left the Sault on Sept. 17, 1641 and reached the rapids after 17 days' canoeing. The two were here three months and preached to the Indians during that time.

St. Isaac Jogues was martyred by Iroquois Indians in 1646, near what is now Auriesville, N. Y. It is in the Albany area.

Other Jesuits who passed the Sault in the 17th century, Father Prud'homme continued were Father Rene Menard in 1660 and Father Claude Allouez in 1665. He passed through the Sault in 1670.

Father Prud'homme took charge of Jesuit work in the Northern Peninsula after the death of Father William Gagnier, S. J., in 1937. Since 1946, he has been assisted by Father Lawless, S. J., who works in the eastern end of the peninsula while Father Prud'homme takes the western area.

Nine Jesuit seminarians are assisting in construction of the building proper and this work is under the direction of Brother Augustus Scharf, S. J. Father Delmar Doseh, S. J. and Father Prud'homme and Father Lawless are in general charge.

Potato Price Supports Questioned

CHAIRMAN PACE of the house agricultural subcommittee told potato producers in Washington last week that the present price support program for potatoes "penalizes cooperators, rewards non-cooperators and costs the government more than is justified." The congressman added that potato growers must consent to stricter government controls or risk losing federal price supports.

The potato support program, as it has worked out in actual practice, has been ridiculous. The government has paid $409,000,000 to buy and destroy the potato surplus. The cost to the consumer has been tremendously higher because they have not only paid the $409,000,000, but many millions more in unreasonably high prices for the potatoes they bought.

As Chairman Pace said, the program penalizes cooperators because their potato acreage is restricted, rewards non-cooperators because they benefit by the artificially high price of potatoes without being subjected to acreage restrictions.

The price support program in effect for the 1949 crop is more realistic than in past years. The support price has been fixed at 60 per cent of parity, instead of 90 per cent, as in the past, and acreage allotments have been reduced to cut down the heavy surpluses that developed in the past. Even at that, it is estimated that the government's cost for propping potato prices for the 1949 crop will be $500,000,000 to $100,000,000.

As Rep. Pace aptly put it, "There is grave question whether the American public will consent to continuance of spend this large amount of money to buy a perishable crop and destroy it."

Kositzky Honored At Softball Field

IT was Louie Kositzky night at Memorial Field Sunday and Louie's team, the Liberty Loans, made it an occasion to pay tribute to a man who has been a fan favorite in Escanaba softball for more than 20 years.

They gave Louie a self winding, waterproof wrist watch, a valuable gift that Kositzky will cherish for years to come, but the heart-warming applause from the fans who flocked out to the lighted field for the occasion should linger in Louie's memory long after the wrist watch is gone and forgotten. It was truly a grand tribute to a grand player.

Kositzky's popularity among the players and the fans is not at all confined to recognition of his remarkable ability as a pitcher. He is a strong team player, a good sport and an inspiration to younger players.

Whoever conceived the idea of Louie Kositzky night deserves credit, too. Generally in the past such occasions were reserved for unfortunate players who had broken a leg or were otherwise disabled in a softball accident. This one was prompted by pride in Kositzky's contribution to the development of the game in Escanaba. He has earned the honors that have come his way and the respect of the fans and players.

Luckman Gives Sound Warning

AS a nation we cannot afford to become economic hypochondriacs because a country, like an individual, can worry itself sick."

This and a lot more talk like it came recently from Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers company, the big soap and food products maker.

Always a dynamo, Luckman was whirling at his highest pitch as he outlined for Americans the key reasons they should stop quaking with fear over prospects of a depression.

He cited 59,000,000 workers on the job, $200,000,000 in liquid savings and an estimated $215,000,000 total personal income for 1949.

"It would seem preposterous that anyone could manipulate these figures and come up with an answer that equals disaster," he said. "Yet that is precisely what many Americans are doing."

It's true. And sad and a bit ironic, too. Not many months ago the big cry was "Let's halt this dangerous rise in prices." Now we've done it and the resulting downturn has us scared stiff.

For a long time we'd been breaking more business records than we had any right to expect we could. Now, just because we've slacked off from that smashing pace, the attitude of many is that we're heading for ruin. Businessmen, politicians, commentators, citizens of every walk nervously await each august announcement from high places on where we stand.

Luckman will have done us a service if his talk at Los Angeles helps to shake us out of this silly frame of mind.

His advice, naturally, was directed most pointedly at businessmen who had grown accustomed to a plush state of affairs and were shocked when those conditions had vanished.

"Sales managers, vice presidents and presidents have shiny pants from hatching profits on cushioned chairs," he said. "Let's go out and sell goods."

A lot of us who aren't executives have had things pretty fat since the war ended and maybe we, too, have shiny pants.

Certainly it's foolish for us to sit around expecting the private enterprise system to prove itself to us through thick and thin. It can only work if we make it work. So if we can just stop trembling long enough, maybe we can get the jobs done that will keep the economy going smoothly.

Let's Irritate 'Em Some More

WHEN Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia split with Russia last year, we were warned by our foreign affairs experts not to expect much benefit from the event. But it is clear we are reaping some advantage from it.

Russia's anger over Tito led to her withdrawal of support for his territorial claims in Austria. Thus one of the main roadblocks to an Austrian peace treaty was removed.

On the other hand, Yugoslavia's wrath over the Soviet-inspired Cominform campaign against the Tito regime has induced the marshal to stop helping the Greek Communist rebels.

By closing the Greek-Yugoslav frontier and halting aid to the rebel cause, Tito has given the Greek government a big lift in its hitherto largely fruitless efforts to stamp out the rebellion.

If Stalin and Tito can just stay mad—as it seems they will—the western powers ought to rack up a pretty good score from this situation after all.

GYPPING TOURISTS (Menominee Herald-Leader)

The Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Chamber of Commerce is concerned—and it should be—over the blacklisting by the Chicago Motor Club of Algoma district (Canadian Soo) resorts because of unfair tourist dealings, consisting of high prices, etc. Bob Curran of the Soo Star, president of the Canadian Soo Chamber of Commerce, says "There are some grounds for the Chicago Automobile Club's move against the district. It's up to us to see that this doesn't happen again." The chamber adopted a resolution to blacklist resorts and stores giving unfair treatment to tourists. It must anger the more sensible merchants and resort operators of the Algoma district to have a few foolish fellows kill the golden goose by trying to sell a few eggs at black market prices.

Gyp practices in resorting are an evidence of immaturity. The Algoma district isn't the only one so afflicted. As resorting becomes better established as an important and permanent business such practices will be largely eliminated because it will be apparent to resort operators that they can't profit by chasing customers away and that's what high prices, or even rumors of high prices always do. The history of U. P. resorting is that resorts seldom continue to be operated by the persons who construct them, indicating unsettled beginnings of the business.

Editor Joyce Larkin of the Vilas County News-Review published at Eagle River, Wis., in one of Wisconsin's famed resort regions, recently visited Door county, another fan-famed Wisconsin resort area, and wrote: "Door county is an older resort community than the North Woods and they've learned an all-important lesson. They've learned that it's easy for one person to drive business away from an entire area. He can complain, knock and be unobliging, discourteous and indifferent and business is lost for the entire county." Miss Larkin quoted a Door county person who said there was once distrust and suspicion there among resort operators until it was learned that helping each other helped everyone, and that if one prospered all prospered; that what was important was to get people to come to Door county.

Prices remind us that it might be a good idea to rewrite all cook books and simply leave out the butter.

SOME COMMON MISTAKES IN USING THE WORD TAKE

The word TAKE may properly be used in a large number of meanings. But there are certain usages that are frowned on as illiterate or dialectal by the authorities. A few of the commonest abuses follow:

Avoid: "I hope you don't go and take sick."

Better say: "I hope you don't become sick (or ill)."

Avoid: "Leave me take your pencil."

There are two errors here. Better say: "Let me have your pencil."

Wrong: "He took and bought a car."

Right: He bought a car.

Wrong: "She has taken down with a cold."

Right: She has taken cold. Or: She has caught a cold.

Wrong: "I've took my death of cold."

Right: I have a bad cold.

Wrong: "I'm glad to see that he taken to studying."

Right: I'm glad to see that he likes to study.

Schoolteachers for countless years have labored valiantly to stamp out the dialectal "I taken, he taken, we taken," etc. But the errors persist, often in the speech of fairly

Allies May Aid Marshal Tito

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—To enable Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to go on standing up to the Soviet Union is a major objective of the United States and Great Britain in eastern Europe. So long as Tito is off the Communist reservation—and his war with the Cominform is growing hotter—Russia is hampered in her plans to consolidate the military and economic resources of the Soviet sphere. Obviously, the chances for peace are thereby increased.

This policy has been the source of a closely guarded controversy at the highest level here in Washington. It came about as a result of Yugoslavia's application for a license to purchase a steel rolling mill in this country.

Shortly before he went on a brief visit to Yugoslavia, Ambassador Sava N. Kosanovich was told that the necessary export license would be issued. That was based on the conviction of experts in both the state and commerce departments that it was a "calculated risk" in the interests of peace.

Steel engineers of the New York firm of H. A. Brassett were already in Belgrade making a survey and British engineers are also at work. While terms of payment had not been worked out, the hope was that this could be negotiated on a basis of private trade since Yugoslavia is sending to this country increasing shipments of lead, copper and other minerals.

All this appears to have been premature, since in a late phase of the discussions Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson asserted himself. As he has done in several instances, he stepped into what had been considered up to that point a matter of foreign policy.

Johnson was opposed to permitting Yugoslavia to buy and import the steel mill. Yugoslavia, he said with characteristic finality, was behind the iron curtain, and that was enough for him.

Finally, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, with experts from state and commerce, met Johnson to argue it out. According to some of those present, it was an extraordinary session.

Johnson is reported to have made the flat statement that the proposed mill would increase the steel capacity of Russia and the satellites by five per cent. To those in the commerce department familiar with steel production that was a startling statement. Soviet Russia can produce annually an estimated 17,000,000 metric tons and the satellites, exclusive of Yugoslavia, perhaps another 9,000,000 tons.

The export license sought by Yugoslavia calls for an expenditure of about $3,000,000 over-all. A mill of that size, as the experts figured it, would certainly not add five per cent to the steel potential of eastern Europe.

Other startling statements in a different vein are attributed to Johnson. He is said to have threatened to carry the issue to the White House with stress on the political implications for 1952 of such a concession to an iron curtain country.

In skilled and lawyer-like fashion Acheson argued the case for strengthening Tito so that Yugoslavia can resist the tightening cord of economic blockade applied under Russian orders by all the satellites. While that blockade is causing some economic hardship, it has not seriously weakened the regime of Marshal Tito. It has, however, delayed the grandiose plans for industrialization Tito has outlined.

This, it seems to me, is a question in which sentiment and emotion should enter as little as possible. If, as a purely practical matter, Tito can be sustained, then Russia's position in Europe is weakened. To deny Tito even this small lifeline will make the Kremlin rejoice.

The international bank is about to send a mission to Yugoslavia as the result of an application from Belgrade for a loan to develop mineral resources. But because of the way in which it is set up the bank must proceed slowly.

The controversy over the Yugoslav steel mill bears some resemblance to the question of whether or not this country is to share atomic information with Great Britain and Canada. Both are calculated risks. Both are risks proposed in the interest of ultimate peace and security in the world. In the end President Truman will probably have to decide whether Yugoslavia is to get a steel mill.

Those who oppose these risks—or, for that matter, any risk—seem often, whether they realize it or not, to be acting in the belief that war is the only way out. To accept that belief is, it seems to me, to deny that there is any hope left.

well educated persons.

Similar errors are, "I done, I seen."

Let's see why "I taken, I done, I seen" are wrong.

Take, do, and see are irregular verbs; the past tense is: took, did, and saw.

Now, taken, done, and seen are past participles and they need auxiliary or assisting verbs, such as was, were, had, have, etc., as: I have done it, she has taken it, it was seen, and so on.

In informal speech "I'd done it, she'd taken it, he's seen it," and such constructions, sound almost if not exactly like "I done it, she taken it, he seen it," and I think that is the source of the common errors.

Pointing out this fact to English classes will help teachers to correct the errors.

Q. My boss dictated: "You may have the draft completed and notarized to by a notary public." What's your opinion?

A. The sentence is awkward and redundant. A draft isn't "notarized" (to) it is notarized. "By a notary public" is unnecessary since only notaries public can notarize a document. Improved: You may have the draft completed and notarized. (The verb notarize used to make the purists yelp. But modern authorities sanction it.)

Follow-Up

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS—Our friend of Alcoholics Anonymous, from whom we have heard before, is back again with the last two columns in a series he has written. The third will appear today, the fourth and last, tomorrow.

He has already told us of the alcoholic, of the problem drinker, and how he can recognize himself—and be recognized by his family and friends. Incidentally, those columns have inspired many appeals for help to the local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous.

In today's column he will describe more fully the organization established to help alcoholics help themselves. Tomorrow we will climax the series with an announcement advising alcoholics—who sincerely desire help—how and where they can contact the local AA unit.

FOUNDED BY "DRUNKS"—"Alcoholics Anonymous is an organization founded about 15 years ago by two or three so-called 'drunks,' advises our friends of the local AA. "These founders had spent small fortunes because of their drinking and were given up by friends and doctors as hopeless alcoholics.

"Yet they conceived, perhaps in desperation, the foundation upon which Alcoholics Anonymous is based, practiced it themselves, and to the amazement of everyone near them, their condition was completely arrested. This term is used because alcoholism, like tuberculosis, is a condition never completely cured, but merely arrested."

THE ALCOHOLICS—"What is the definition of an alcoholic?" "This condition has been described an 'excessive' drinker, 'problem' drinker, and by various other terms. Perhaps the best term used to date is an 'uncontrolled' drinker.

"It is impossible to set a date by the calendar when one passes from the realm of social drinker or periodical drinker into the realm of an uncontrolled drinker. This period may be only a few months, but on the other hand, it probably is a period of a few years.

"The word 'alcoholic' is a harsh word. It undoubtedly keeps many persons from admitting they are alcoholic. It has been suggested, on various occasions, that the word alcoholic be substituted by another descriptive word, or words, such as 'Friends Anonymous', but there is little likelihood the name of the organization will ever be changed."

AND ANONYMOUS—"Anonymous means exactly what the word implies—to remain unknown or unnamed. This was necessary in the beginning because the public looked upon such a program with scorn and skepticism. Today the work of this organization has spread throughout the world like wildfire and instead of being scorned, these people are looked upon as having a mysterious solution or cure for the uncontrolled drinkers. Unfortunately this is not true."

THE GREATER BEING—"There are twelve basic principles that form the foundation of Alcoholics Anonymous. For this article, only three are considered:

1—"That the person seeking aid must admit that he is an alcoholic."

2—"That this person desires to quit his drinking and seeks aid in

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—The Most Reverend Joseph Plagens, D. D., Bishop of Marquette, will preside over the ceremonies commemorating the silver jubilee of Rev. Fr. J. Alderic Paquet, chaplain at St. Francis hospital, which will be held August second.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Gust Anderson of Chicago have returned to their home following a visit spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McGraw, 321 South 17th street. Mr. Anderson and Mrs. McGraw are sisters.

Gladstone—The sloop Doris owned by Commodore Clyde Cole of the Gladstone Yacht Club won the sailing championship of the G. Y. C. which was held July 30 off the south shore.

Manistique—T. H. Bolitho was named president of the Manistique board of education at the regular organization meeting held July 31. He succeeds Dr. A. R. Tucker who is the retiring president.

Gladstone—Miss Violet Boldus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beaudry, will become the bride of James Damitz of Kalamazoo at a four o'clock solemnized ceremony at the Memorial church, Rev. Ivan Gosner will officiate.

Twenty Years Ago
Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allard and two children of Hibbing, Minn., and Mrs. Frank Allard of Chisholm, Minn., who have been visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beaudoin and Mrs. Mary Moreau, have returned to their homes.

Escanaba—Pat Tolan of Milwaukee is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. S. C. Stille, First avenue South.

Gladstone—Madam Anna Lundin Ullman, famed European soprano, will present a concert tomorrow evening at the First Lutheran church at 8 o'clock. The program will be greatly appreciated by music lovers.

Manistique—B. F. Gaffney and family are moving to Houghton this week where Mr. Gaffney has accepted a position as instructor of Agriculture. Mr. Gaffney taught agriculture here also.

We Russians are always optimistic.—Jacob A. Malik, Russian delegate to the UN, when asked if he were optimistic over recent discussions of lifting the Berlin blockade.

doing so.
3—"That he must sincerely believe that there is a 'Being' greater than himself.

"Strange as it may seem, to believe there is a Being greater than one's self is the most difficult accomplishment for an alcoholic.

"It makes no difference whether a person is Catholic, Protestant, Jew or any other denomination or sect. This great Being need not necessarily be God as most of us have been taught in our religious beliefs, but it is necessary that this Being is greater than ourselves according to the interpretation that is placed upon that Being by the individual. That Being could be the sun or the moon or the stars or nature itself, so long as it is acknowledged that that Being is greater than the individual."

REALIZATION—The problem of the uncontrolled drinker has been attacked from several viewpoints—morality, health, religion and others. Today many spiritual leaders, doctors, judges, and other persons interested in solving the problem, look to Alcoholics Anonymous to provide sympathetic and understanding help.

In tomorrow's column our friend of Alcoholics Anonymous will describe the help that is being offered locally and how it may be obtained.

Refund Delay

Dear Editor:

Many Republican members of Congress have been contending that the Truman administration intends to delay the refunding of $2,800,000,000 in national service insurance over-payments until 1950, a Congressional election year. This over-payment has been due the 16,000,000 veterans of World War II for several years and in June, 1948 the Supreme Court cleared the way for the Veterans Administration to make the refunds and Republican members of the House Veterans Committee urgently requested that the checks be sent out immediately.

But the Veterans Administration, despite pledges and promises to the Veterans that they would mail the checks by Jan. 1, 1949, now informs members of Congress that because the agency is unable to obtain needed floor space the checks probably won't go out until late in 1950. In other words around election time.

As I stated to you previously, I am in support of a resolution introduced by Representative Keating of New York, which directs the Veterans Administration to send the checks out on or before October 15th this year. But it looks like this will not prevail and that, as has been stated from the first, the Truman administration will have these 16,000,000 checks in the mail just about the time of balloting next fall. This delay in repaying $2,800,000,000 in over-payments to the veterans—money which never at any time belonged to the government—has been called a shocking political scandal. But it isn't likely that all the boys will be fooled.

Rep. Chas. E. Potter, M. C.

For Better Fishing

Dear Editor:

Governor Williams will be in Escanaba for the Upper Peninsula State Fair and I think that it would be a good chance for resort operators and particularly for some of the local sportsmen to talk with him about the protection of walleye fishing for hook and line fishermen.

The way the commercial fishermen have been netting the walleyes, practically up to the shores, it is no wonder there is a reduction in the hook and line fishing. The bay is plenty big for both commercial and sports fishermen—if only the commercial boys would keep their nets away from the shores and give the walleyes half a chance to get in.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Those who have long watched the Washington run-around feel that South Dakota's Senator Karl Mundt has come up with the best proposal yet to avoid inside lobbying and help the little business man.

Senator Mundt, who knows his Washington well, proposed to establish a government information bureau to give businessmen all data regarding government contracts.

If properly organized, this could be a great boon to all business. The average firm cannot afford to employ a special representative to sit in Washington, therefore loses out to big firms that do.

General Motors long has operated one of the most efficient offices in Washington, entertains army-navy officers, knows pretty much what the government is buying. Studebaker, Douglas Aircraft, Pan American Airways, TWA, and many other big firms have done the same. Furthermore, they deduct their costs from income taxes, so Uncle Sam foots much of the bill.

That's why the average business firm is left out in the cold, partly why only six American firms got 60 per cent of the government's war contracts.

Senator Mundt, realizing this, has proposed an information bureau which could usher in a new era for little business.

MAKING OF AN ATTORNEY GENERAL

Small incidents in the lives of men sometimes become turning points in history. One incident that turned the life of Sen. J. Howard McGrath, newly designated attorney general, was a torchlight parade in Rhode Island 20 years ago.

The parade was staged by Harry Storrin of Keith's theater in honor of actor Eddie Dowling, a native son who was returning to Rhode Island to play "Honeymoon Lane." Young McGrath, a budding politician, was in the parade, got to know Dowling.

Later, when Roosevelt entered the White House, he bitterly disliked Rhode Island's Senator Peter Gerry, handed the state's patronage over to his old friend, Eddie Dowling. Dowling, unfamiliar with politics, passed it on to Howard McGrath.

That gave McGrath his big political start. He ran for state attorney general, then for governor, and while serving as governor was offered the post of solicitor general in the justice department. Truman had first offered this office—which presents government cases to the supreme court—to Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia. Arnall turned it down.

At that time, Truman's chances of being re-elected were considered nil. However, Governor McGrath accepted the job on the second bounce, even left the governorship to take it. From there, he went on to the senate, now to the cabinet. If he had declined the solicitor generalship, he would never be where he is today.

BITTER BYRD BATTLE

One of the most important primary elections of the year takes place in Virginia today. Its importance lies in the possibility that, following the defeat of Boss Hagar in Jersey City and Tammany by FDR, Jr., today may see the downfall of another machine—that of Sen. Harry E. Byrd.

So serious is the fight that Byrd's colleague in the senate, Willis Robertson, tactfully objects to being labeled part of the "Byrd machine." He is afraid that eventually he might go down with it.

Byrd's candidate for governor, John S. Battle, has the distinction of co-authoring last year's bill to deprive President Truman of Virginia's vote in the electoral college even if he won the popular vote. Three Democrats are in the gubernatorial race against him.

How desperate the Byrd forces are is indicated by their efforts to take one of the candidates, Rennie Arnold, out of the race. A prosperous pen manufacturer, Arnold has just started in politics, believes that businessmen shouldn't merely complain about bad government but should do something to improve government.

NELSONS WILL RETURN HOME

Rockford Folks Remain Year In Sweden

By MRS. HERMAN G. NELSON
Kungsater, Sweden, July 23 (by air mail)—Since June 19, when we left Stockholm as a family, my girls and I have been basking in the love of friends and relatives and enjoying their unlimited hospitality. Each hour that one spends with these dear relatives in Sweden seems sacred. The time of leaving is soon at hand and one does not know if or when one shall meet again.

We have been walking the paths of my mother and father in Westergothland, the province where so many American-Swedish families have their ancestral roots. I walked those paths first in 1929 when my husband took me here as his bride on our honeymoon. I walked them again last summer when I returned with my two daughters to Sweden for this year of study and visit. I walk them in reverence as I think that these are the places from which my parents tore themselves loose in order to find greater opportunity in America.

Back Home Aug. 13

We sail on the Swedish-American liner MS Gripsholm on Friday, July 29, from Gothenburg and we will be in New York Aug. 8. We shall be back in Rockford on Aug. 13, or just 13 months to the day from our departure July 13, 1946.

Kungsater is an idyllic village and here lives my mother's only sister in Sweden, with her family. We arrived at Kungsater on the 70th birthday of my uncle, Carl Carlsson. It was a celebration I shall always recall with happiness. More than 80 persons had gathered and I was privileged to escort him to the dinner table and later to make one of the toasts in his honor. Birthday parties are tremendous affairs in Sweden, especially the 50th, 60th, 70th and 80th birthdays.

We continued the celebration the following day—when we carried food to the old folks' home of the community. My uncle and I sang some church hymns. It was a happy occasion for these people.

On Sunday, July 17, with my uncle and aunt and several cousins, we traveled to Skephult church, where I was baptized as an infant just before my folks took me to America at the age of three weeks. I marvel to think that my mother dared venture on that long trip with a child so young.

The church is being completely renovated. With 500 crowns which I brought with me to Sweden last summer as a gift from my aunt in Rockford, the church had purchased a small addition to the churchyard which is to be named in honor of my aunt. From the church, we proceeded to visit the families of five other cousins. All had come together for this last visit and we were 28 who sat down to eat dinner. In the home of one, we dedicated a new piano with a song service.

I am sorry I shall not get back to Stockholm to see the opening of the Långtaden, the great international gymnasts' festival which is being repeated in Stockholm this summer after an interval of 10 years. We saw it in the making and we read now in the Swedish papers that 110 gymnasts' troupes will participate in the programs from July 27 to 31. Seventeen foreign lands are represented with 20 groups of gymnasts and a total of 45 foreign lands are present with delegates and observers. The festival will be followed Aug. 1 to 6 with an international gymnastics congress. The gymnasts remain still another week in large camps and appear in many exhibitions. Sweden alone will be represented with 7,000 gymnasts in 26 troupes. Denmark will have 20 groups with 2,000 participants. Norway has eight troupes with 1,000 gymnasts.

One Year In Sweden

We have seen a year in Sweden come and go. We have lived each season with the Swedish people and we have enjoyed each moment. Perhaps the spring months appeared the hardest, after the dark winter months. They say that one's vitality is lowest then. That was true of us. Since then, however, the days have been glorious. Midsummer was cold, the coldest for Sweden in decades, and the chill drove most people home early from the colorful festivities. A cup of coffee tasted good. But the summer days have been warm and pleasant.

At the summer home of a cousin, we were privileged to spend a day at the ocean near Varberg. Here along the west coast of Sweden are thousands of summer homes where Swedish families live during the summer months and bask in the sunshine. The summer homes along the west coast begin even north of Gothenburg and the beaches and summer places become more and more numerous and popular as one goes south by way of Var-

Lawrence Hartwig Likes His Job--No Red Tape

By ESTHER TUFTY

Washington.—Tucked away in a corner of the Federal Reserve building is the "unique" War Contracts Settlements Board, which is governed by Lawrence Hartwig, formerly of Escanaba.

Chairman Hartwig says his board is unique among Washington agencies in that it involves absolutely no red tape, his independent board is the final non-judicial resource of manufacturers who feel the government did not give them a fair settlement when it abruptly terminated their contracts at the end of the war.

During the war, according to Hartwig, the government let hundreds of thousands of contracts whose value ran into the billions. As the end of the war approached, Uncle Sam began to cut back his war orders. But many manufacturers had incurred expenses preparing to fulfill these contracts that were cancelled or terminated. They had supplies of materials, parts purchased from other companies, sub-contracted work already paid for. United States decided it was only fair to pay these contractors for money they had spent preparing to complete the government order.

Reviews 321 Cases

To facilitate these repayments, Hartwig explains, Congress in 1944 passed the War Contracts Settlement Act. Its object, he says, "was the speedy and equitable settlement" of claims against the government. By setting up the board of which Hartwig is now chairman, Uncle Sam hoped to avoid endless litigation. Hartwig claims U. S. has. But he adds, "any contractor is free to appeal to the court from our decision."

So far his board has reviewed 321 cases where alleged claims against the government ran from $1,000 to $3,000,000. The bulk of the cases, Hartwig said, were the claims of small businessmen. Of particular help to small businessmen is the board's operating procedure, which permits it to meet where the contractor chooses.

"This gives confidence to the businessman," says Hartwig. "He knows the hearing will be conducted in an environment friendly to him."

Hartwig, who once worked for the Escanaba Daily Press, finds his present job pleasant—not only because of the absence of red tape, but because of its diversity. "It involves law, engineering, and accounting," he observed. And it also involves extensive traveling. Hartwig has criss-crossed the United States settling claims.

He came to Washington in 1942 from the law faculty of the University of Oregon. Incidentally, the Dean of Oregon's law school then was Wayne Morse, now a member of the United States Senate.

Hartwig first served with the legal division of the OPA, under Paul Porter, whom President Truman recently appointed to the United Nations settlement Commission on Palestine. When Porter left OPA, Hartwig went too.

Studied Abroad

He worked at the general counsel's office of the treasury department. His main concern was the frozen assets of enemy aliens and enemy countries. The idea was to keep German and Italian big-wigs from exporting their assets beyond their borders. He says America was pretty successful.

berg, Halmstad and Falsterbo. Every Swedish family who can afford it seems to have a summer place on a lake or along the seacoast. That accounts for the fact that American tourists who come to Sweden in summer find few people at home, except perhaps the relatives whom they came to visit. It is naturally reflected in church attendance during the summer months. Swedish people on the whole are religious and they love their churches but they do not always think it necessary to attend church services. On the other hand, there are thousands of faithful church attendants both among the old and young people.

ful in this, but that some assets probably got out anyhow—mainly to Spain and the Argentine.

The main channel for exporting these assets was Switzerland. The knowledge of the Alps-crested country Hartwig acquired as a student in 1936-37 undoubtedly helped him during the war. He went to England and Switzerland on a fellowship from the Carnegie Peace Endowment.

Hartwig, really quite a legal scholar, has also done graduate work in law at his alma mater, the University of Michigan. To raise tuition money, he worked three years as a newspaperman.

Fewer and fewer claims now come before the Contract Settlements Board. "We have definitely passed the hump," said Hartwig. But he hopes Uncle Sam's experience with his board may eventually lead to the creation of a permanent board with similar powers. "It would save the government money to concentrate settlement powers in one board," he said.

Hartwig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartwig, 616 South 17 street, Escanaba.

RUARK GRIPES ABOUT VIDEO

Baseball Announcers Get His Goat

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York.—Ever since the stork brought a television set I have been squandering my afternoons watching DiMag and Musial make nervous wrecks of the pitchers, and in the process a certain amount of listening to the announcers is necessary.

You cannot pick a wholehearted fight with the boys for the sickly job they do with the commercials, since there are only so many things you can say about a cigarette, a cigar or a beer, and somebody has to pay for the telecast.

But you can take on the way they do the broadcasts of the actual games. Even with the pictures to help them out, between the coyness of announcement and the dull statistics and the cute little inter-polations for baseball terms, such as "Ballantine blast" for home run, you even go so far as to drive yourself out to the stadium to see it without having to listen to it.

Somebody has told these boys that they have to talk all the time. They giggle at their own lousy little jokes. Giggle is the word I wanted. All of them giggle, as if baseball was a cute little dirty joke, and any reference to it is an automatic yack. They even giggle over their sponsored products. Chesterfield cigarettes are every bit as gigglesome as White Owl cigars or Ballantine's brew. They cannot possibly be that funny.

When the lads are not chortling over the delicious humor to be found in the fact that a first baseman wears a finger-glove inside his mitt, or convulsing themselves over hidden merriment in a cigarette which is made of tobacco, they chuckle at each other. When the time comes to describe the action on the field, if they are not too busy giggling at each other or applauding the product which makes this fine wit available, the broadcasting boys take on a sober, scientific mien which might persuade a casual listener that they all served their bush-league apprenticeship on the Manhattan project.

They get so busy serving up the statistics, smoking cold, that they often forget to see whether the ball went into the bleachers for a homer or a foul. A new catcher played an inning for the Yanks the other night before the statistics.

Loan or Purchase Agreement Advised

East Lansing, (AP)—Farmers harvesting wheat and placing it in their own storage would be wise to consider a loan or purchase agreement with the Commodity Credit corporation, Michigan State College economists said.

Farmers needing ready cash may want to obtain a government loan after the wheat is in storage.

If cash is not needed, however, the economists believe the purchase agreement is less costly. The agreement does not prevent the farmer from selling or feeding his grain.

Farmers may obtain the purchase agreement from county AAA offices. It costs the farmer one half cent a bushel, or a minimum of $1.50. Under the agreement, the government promises to buy the grain next May 1 at the support price.

Plan New Hobby In Middle Years

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The attitude of many middle-aged women is expressed by these familiar words: "I've lived my life, so I'll sit by and watch my children live theirs."

When a woman begins to feel no more interest than that in the rich years ahead, she should give her defeatist attitude a good going over.

When a woman's children are grown and her obligations toward them have been fulfilled is the time for her to begin a stimulating new life for herself. The moment one new interest gains her attention, her defeatist attitude expressed by "I'll sit by and watch" will be changed.

A plan to lead a fuller and more stimulating life, now that the mother of a brood is free to pursue new interests, will make her a more fascinating woman to her husband, friends and children. Her failure to "grow" and to enrich her personality is apt to put her in that category, which every woman wants to avoid, of being a dull mother and wife and a stick-in-the-mud friend.

Pockets are big news in fall fashions. Some designers use double or triple pockets for dress trimmings. Home dressmakers may copy the idea.

Visitors Very Heavy At Present

Summer tourist traffic is the heaviest it has been in years.

Carl Olson, of the tourist information center, reports that requests for help in finding accommodations have become increasingly difficult. Also increasing in number are the requests for information for tent and trailer accommodations along various lakes and streams.

Tourists are telling of long waits at the Straits, cabin camps are well filled and last week, according to report, there were 95 trailers or tents at the Indian Lake State Park camp site. This would indicate that about 400 people were accommodated in that spot alone last Friday.

Several reasons have been ascribed for the situation at this time. The chief reason listed is that it still hot in the Detroit, Toledo and Chicago areas. Vacations, of course, come in greater numbers, at this time, and many plants shut down for seasonal respects.

The number of downstate and out of state cars parked along South Cedar street the past week far outnumber the number of local cars.

COOKS SCHOOL
TO TRAIN VETSOn - Job - Training For Farm Hands Okeyed

Any veteran in Schoolcraft County or in areas contiguous to Cooks Consolidated school, who is interested in enrolling in on-the-job training for farm hands, is urged to attend a meeting at the Cooks school on the evening of Friday, August 5 at 8:30 o'clock. The proposal will be thoroughly explained and the necessary application blanks will be on hand for all who wish to sign.

An on-the-job training program for farm workers, operating through Cooks Consolidated school is now a certainty.

Ray Ranguette, superintendent of the Cooks institution, received word Saturday from Lee Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, to the effect that the Veterans' Administration had approved the Cooks school as the focal point for administering the course and that the necessary instructors would be hired and the required material, supplies etc., would be furnished by the Veterans' Administration.

Mr. Ranguette explains that there will be at least one instructor—possibly two—to hold class at least one night per week. The rest of the time would be spent affield, giving practical on-the-job instruction to the class members—it being required that each student receive at least two hours per week instruction while he is actually at work.

The privilege of training is restricted to veterans of World War II who will receive pay for their work and for their training with the assurance that each receive ninety dollars per month if single and a certain added amount for each dependent if married.

Any veteran, if interested in enrolling, is asked to get in touch with Mr. Ranguette. The course will begin when school opens on September 6.

Cases involving the transporting of firearms in an area frequented by wild animals kept Judge W. G. Stephens busy Monday morning and early afternoon.

The first two arraigned before him were Robert Sein and Fred Guyette, both of Detroit, who had been arrested in Manistique township by Ernest Derwin, conservation officer. They pleaded guilty as charged and were each fined $25 and $35.00 costs.

Arraigned later on the same charge shortly afterward was Richard Schlehuber, of Detroit, who was arrested Sunday in Seney township, by Conservation Officer Leslie Wahlstrand. He received same penalty.

Following Schlehuber was Jack Denney, arrested in Hiawatha township, July 30, by Ernest Derwin. The charge and penalty were the same.

Everett Wood, arrested in Thompson township last Saturday, by Officer Derwin, pleaded guilty to a charge of having unsized trout in his possession. He was fined $5 and assessed in addition, $3.50 costs.

Sixty Local 4-H Club Members At Chatham Meeting

About sixty Schoolcraft county young people, members of its numerous 4-H Clubs, left Monday morning for Chatham for a week's stay.

Accompanying them in a supervisory capacity and as chaperones were Fred Bernhardt, county 4-H leader; Gerald Gray, Mrs. Evelyn Miller, Shirley Lawrence and Carol Wolfe.

An elaborate program, both entertaining and instructive, bearing chiefly on club projects for the coming year, is on the program.

The Gernfask school bus was pressed into service to take the young people to their destination. Clayton Reid, county agricultural agent accompanied the young people for a day's stay.

Nahma Juniors
To Play Here
Tuesday Afternoon

The Junior Cards and the Midgets will entertain the Nahma teams in a twin bill here today. At an earlier meeting of the two teams in the two age groups both Midgets and Cards came home winners. Game time is 2 p. m.

Wednesday afternoon the Rapid River will come to Manistique for a first meeting with the local Midgets. Since the two have not met previously little can be said for the comparison between the two. The Midgets will be gunning for their tenth victory as against one loss. Thursday afternoon the Mighty Mites will be host to the North Star Boys' Camp nine at 2 o'clock. At three the Junior Cards will tackle the Munising American Legion Junior nine, only team to defeat the Junior Cards this summer. The Junior Cards have won ten games in inter-city competition.

COL. L. FORNEY
ROTE SPEAKERTells Of Work Of Army
Intelligence Corps

The work of the army counter intelligence corps in fighting espionage, sabotage and other spy activity was the subject of an interesting talk delivered by Col. L. R. Forney, retired army officer, at the Manistique Rotary meeting.

At the outset he gave assurance that the work applied strictly to the army service and did not affect the people in civilian life, who, if subject to investigation, would be referred to the FBI.

The counter intelligence corps is unlike any other department in the arms service, he said. Those enlisted in it must have an intelligence rating of at least 120. They are intensively trained to be the best soldiers, the best mechanics in the army, must know at least one foreign language and in warfare, must always be in the forefront in combat.

It was men in this branch of the service who gained data at Casa Blanca that eventually won the North African campaign. It helped clear Italy of spies and dangerous booby traps when the Allied forces landed there. In the Battle of the Bulge, it made short shift of the spy element that was numerous in that zone.

In connection with spies caught after the Battle of the Bulge, he stated that many men in American uniform who spoke excellent English when addressed, met their downfall when they were asked the simple question: "Who is Mr. Jiggs' wife?" When they failed to answer "Maggie," they were detained for further questioning and almost invariably got into serious trouble.

Preventive counter intelligence, he stated, was this department's most important function, he said. He cited several instances where the department had stopped the smuggling of important information—particularly information relative to atomic bombs.

Col. and Mrs. Forney are spending the summer in the northern part of the county where they have a cottage. They are the parents of Mrs. Richard Wille, of Manistique.

WIDENING JOB IS UNDER WAY

New Street Lamps Will Be Installed

Work has been started on the widening of South 14th street, City Manager A. V. Aronson has announced. The street will be widened a total of six feet, three feet on each side of the street. The west side of the street will be widened first.

New lighting equipment will be installed on the street, with higher standards and improved fixtures. There will be three lamps in each block, but the new lamps will provide at least twice as much illumination as the present lamps. All new cable will be installed underground.

New curb forms have not yet arrived but they are expected to be on hand shortly. In the meantime a power shovel is being used to remove the excess dirt along the boulevard strips.

New reflector stop signs have already been erected on all streets intersecting South 14th street.

Grand Jury May Sift Slaying Of Texas Radio Man

Alice, Tex., Aug. 2 (AP)—County Attorney Homer E. Dean, Jr., said today the prosecution would welcome appointment of a special grand jury to investigate the slaying of W. H. (Bill) Mason, radio commentator.

L. Broeter, 79th district court judge, announced last night he is considering calling such a session. "If the judge wants to call a special grand jury," said Dean, "it would be fine with the prosecution. Sam Smithwick's trial would be held sooner and that would be favorable to us."

The next regular term of the court is not until Oct. 31. The examining trial for 60-year-old Deputy Sheriff Smithwick, who is charged with murdering Mason last Friday, was scheduled for today (10 a. m., CST), but the possibility of a postponement seemed strong.

An authority who declined to be named said last night that Smithwick probably would appear before Justice of the Peace Brown Fuller today and ask for a postponement on the grounds that he hasn't been able to get a lawyer.

Jet Planes Replace Standard Aircraft On German Patrols

Grafenwohr, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States military chiefs of staff disclosed today that jet planes will replace all standard type American fighter aircraft in Germany.

The military leaders also declared that American troops here are ready for any emergency. Army Gen. Omar N. Bradley told reporters there will be no reduction of American troops in Germany "that I know of."

New Health Chief Named at Lansing

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—Appointment of John McKevitt, former budget examiner in the state department of administration, as director of the newly created division of administrative services of the Michigan department of health was announced today.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said McKevitt would be responsible for administration of the sections of health education, finance, personnel, law enforcement and communications. These sections operated independently before the change.

The consolidation of the sections is part of a reorganization program to cut the number of divisions of the department from 13 to seven.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—General Motors Corp. has declared a dividend of $1.25 on common stock—equal to dividend payments in June and March.

It will be distributed Sept. 10 to stock of record Aug. 11.

Scare Ads Deplored For Polio Insurance

Foundation Insists Their Aid Is Not Charity

Cleveland, Aug. 2 (AP)—A local official of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis claims some insurance companies are "hitting below the belt" in selling polio insurance.

DeForest Mellon, treasurer of the foundation's Cuyahoga county chapter, spoke at a meeting of the board of directors of the Cleveland Association of Health and Accident Underwriters.

"For years," Mellon said, "we have been telling the people that we are paying the bills of all polio victims regardless of financial condition and that they do not need to buy polio insurance. The public is not taking charity, as the 'pride angle' of some of the polio insurance ads would have you think."

Later he told a reporter: "We have no objection to the selling of insurance. But when the insurance companies use scare advertising and infer that people who accept help from the National Foundation are charity cases, we believe that is hitting below the belt."

Some polio policies offer to pay up to $5,000 for a $5 annual premium.

Hong Kong Acclaims Little British Ship

Sloop Runs Gauntlet Of Communist Gunfire

By WAYNE RICHARDSON
Aboard H. M. S. Jamaica at Sea, Aug. 2 (AP)—The battered little sloop Amethyst limped toward Hong Kong today where a rousing welcome awaits the doughty crew who brought her to freedom through Chinese Communist gunfire.

A squadron of Spitfires will dip in salute, bands will blare and a military honor guard will be waiting at the wharf when the shell-scarred Royal Navy craft arrives in Hong Kong harbor tomorrow.

The medal of the Distinguished Service Order will be awarded Lieut. Cmdr. John S. Kerans, skipper of the Amethyst, which escaped Saturday night from moorings on the Yangtze river, 60 miles below Nanking.

The award will be made with the personal approval of King George VI, who already has commended the crew for its gallantry in bringing the ship to safety.

The Amethyst had been pinned down in the Yangtze since April 20 when she got caught in Communist shore fire during a confused battle between British warships and Communists armies.

Man Who Insisted On Kissing Wife Fined in Maryland

Galesville, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—Because he was so vehement about his right to be kissed in public by his wife, Roy Miffleton, 31, of Washington is $10 poorer today.

Miffleton was fined that amount yesterday by Trial Magistrate Norman Hazard after testimony at a hearing developed that quite a rumus ensued following a wife kissing on an outing Sunday at Mayo Beach on Chesapeake Bay.

Mrs. Mary Trabing, wife of the resort owner, objected to such goings-on in public. Miffleton objected to her objecting. Words flew hot and heavy. A crowd gathered. And then the police came.

At the trial, Judge Hazard said he wasn't fining Miffleton for publicly kissing his wife but for disorderly conduct afterward. The judge also levied a like fine against a friend of Miffleton's, John Cain, a 26-year-old Washington policeman. Cain had been loud in supporting Miffleton's side of the controversy, testimony showed.

CONVICT CAUGHT

Copland (AP)—Albert R. Shamel, 32, who walked away from the Southern Michigan prison farm Thursday, has been captured in Blue Island, Ill. police here were notified. He was serving a one to 15 year sentence for breaking and entering.

Bruised Daredevil Completes His Trip In Niagara Rapids

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 2 (AP)—Major Lloy Hill, after a week-end in hospital and a few hours of indecision, yesterday completed his interrupted daredevil trip through the swirling rapids and eddies of the Niagara river.

Hill walked out of a Niagara Falls hospital where he had been taken, bruised and injured, on Saturday after his 625-pound steel drum had been trapped in a whirlpool three miles from his starting point.

After deciding not to complete his trip yesterday, Hill changed his mind, crawled through the hatch of his drum 500 feet below the whirlpool where he was trapped Saturday, and rolled and bumped his way three miles down the turbulent current to Queenston.

Only a handful of people watched the trip. The drum raced through the rapids, half-obscured by foam, and came out safely in smooth running water below. Side currents from the hydro station at Queenston washed his craft against the United States shore twice but Hill finally floated free and was taken from the water at the Queenston boat landing.

Azusa Residents Dig Up Sidewalks

Azusa, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—They don't roll up the sidewalks in Azusa, but they do try to take them home.

John Radu and Kenneth Copman yesterday were fined $100 each for tearing up 48 blocks of cement, leaving a gap of 87 feet in the sidewalk. Police Lt. Carl Elkins said the men told him they planned to put the blocks in their patios.

Okinawa Refugees Return to States

Tokyo, Aug. 2 (AP)—Eighty-eight Americans made homeless by a typhoon at Okinawa July 23 will sail for the United States soon. The Army Transport General Backner, arriving at Yokohama Friday, will pick up the Okinawa refugees on its return to the states.

SHOP CREWS RECALLED

Shack (AP)—One hundred men have been called back to work temporarily in the Michigan Central Locomotive shops here. They will work eight days repairing four locomotives, shop superintendent W. E. Buck said. The shops were closed June 13, causing the layoff of 475 men.

ANNA DROPS HUSBAND

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Buttiger obtained a divorce yesterday from newspaperman John Boettiger. She is the daughter of the late President Roosevelt.

"HONEYMOON"—They had planned a different honeymoon. Betty Bowen, 16, and her fiance, 19-year-old Alwyn Ivers, planned it as they sat in his car one night, two days before their scheduled wedding. Today Betty's "honeymoon" is a lonely vigil in the shadowed, silent corridors of Los Angeles General Hospital. Alwyn and she got married—but it was a near tragic ceremony at his hospital bedside, where he lay fighting for his life. While they sat in his car, planning their honeymoon and their life ahead, the pistol-wielding bandit suddenly appeared. The boy bravely tackled the armed man, wrestling the gun away. They struggled. The pistol cracked three times. One bullet went wild. One smashed through Alwyn's neck and jaw. The other killed the bandit.

Ferris Not Pushed Out, Says Farrell, Aide To Governor

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—Ralph Hall Harris, resigned director of pardons and paroles in the corrections department, was not forced out by political pressure, Lawrence J. Farrell, executive secretary to Governor Williams, said today.

"Mr. Ferris' statements reflecting on the governor and the commissioner are untruthful and unfair," Farrell said. He referred to Corrections Commissioner Earnest C. Brooks, Ferris' immediate superior.

In a statement, Farrell gave this version of the affair: "It is clear that this man quit his job because he was denied the privilege of working half-time for the state at full pay."

"Mr. Ferris became ill in February, and could not perform his duties. He was paid his full salary until he returned to the office early in July."

"At that time he requested that he be allowed to work half time, and his request was granted by Commissioner of Corrections Earnest C. Brooks."

"Mr. Ferris evidently believed he was going to receive full pay for half time work. He did receive full pay for the first July pay period, but his salary was reduced to half pay for the second July period."

"Upon learning of this, Mr. Ferris raised his cry of political persecution. He was never asked to resign."

"Governor Williams knew nothing whatever of this matter until he read it in the newspapers. Commissioner Brooks has given Mr. Ferris every reasonable consideration."

Ferris announced yesterday he had resigned last Thursday, because "it is plain my job was wasted."

Ferris charged Brooks was under pressure "from above" to find political jobs. The position is non-political service and normally pays $9,000 a year. Ferris joined the department 12 years ago as chief of the bureau of probation.

Ban On Norwegian Soprano Rescinded In San Francisco

San Francisco, Aug. 2 (AP)—Kirsten Flagstad may sing in the San Francisco War Memorial opera house this fall after all.

Trustees of the War Memorial voted 6 to 5 last night to lift their ban on the Norwegian soprano. The opera association quickly announced the 1949 season, periled by the prospective loss of its top star, would go on as scheduled.

In voting last night to rescind the ban, the six trustees disregarded heated demands by county councils of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars that the singer be denied the right to use the opera house.

SHOT IN ARGUMENT

Battle Creek (AP)—Mrs. Zilpha Perske, 23, critically wounded Saturday when she shot herself with a pistol after an argument with her husband, Roland, died early Monday. The quarrel started when Mrs. Perske asked her husband for $100. She explained later she wanted it to buy him a rifle for a birthday present.

The covote now has expanded its territory from the west, east to Ohio, and north to Alaska.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

July 6, 1949
The annual meeting of the Board of Education of the School District of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, was held at the Superintendent's office at the Junior High School, Escanaba, Mich., on Wednesday, July 6, 1949, at 7:30 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by the President who explicated that this was the annual meeting held for the purpose of receiving annual reports of retiring officers, organization of the new Board of Education, and electing officers and transacting such other business as might come before the meeting.

The Secretary called the roll and found the following Trustees were present: Harold E. Crebo, Charles Folio, Louis P. Groos, Fred Hirm, Charles E. Lewis, Dorothy Lindquist, C. Gust Peterson, Absent: None.

Upon motion made by Trustee Hirm, seconded by Trustee Peterson, the minutes of the last regular meeting held on June 22, were unanimously approved.

The Secretary of the Board of Education then read the annual report of all moneys received and disbursed from July 1, 1948, and including June 30, 1949, together with all school taxes assessed upon the taxable property of the School District in the preceding year. He also read the Secretary's Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 1949.

Moved by Trustee Hirm, seconded by Trustee Peterson, that the various reports be accepted and filed subject to the report and approval of the public auditor who will make the annual audit of all school books and accounts, that these minutes and said reports be published in the Escanaba Daily Press. Upon roll call, Trustees Crebo, Folio, Hirm, Lewis, Lindquist, Peterson voted Yes Opposed: None. Motion carried.

The Secretary's annual report for the year ending June 30, 1949, of funds that had been received and disbursed for the Public Schools of the School District of the City of Escanaba, Delta County, Michigan, from July 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949.

The next order of business being the organization of the new Board of Education, the President announced that the first order of business would be to make arrangements for a class reunion.

NOTICE
St. Joseph
Alumni of 1934
Please meet at American Legion hall
Wed., Aug. 3, 8 P. M.
to make arrangements for a class reunion.

the election of a President and that nominations were in order. Moved by Trustee Peterson, seconded by Trustee Hirm, that Trustee Lewis be elected President of the Board of Education. There being no other nominations, the chair declared the nominations closed, and upon motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, the rules were suspended and the Secretary cast a ballot for Trustee E. Lewis as President of the Board of Education for the ensuing year. The Secretary reported that he had cast one ballot for the President as instructed, and Trustee C. E. Lewis was declared President of the Board of Education for the ensuing year.

Moved by Trustee Hirm, seconded by Trustee Groos, that H. E. Crebo be elected vice-president of the Board of Education. No other nominations being made, the chair declared the nominations closed, and upon motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, the rules were suspended and the Secretary cast a ballot for him as Secretary of the Board of Education for the ensuing year.

The President then announced that the next office to be filled was that of Secretary. CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—Lard futures took the day away from grains in Board of Trade dealings today, running up as much as 33 cents a hundred pounds at the start. Some selling in grains at the opening, but offerings were absorbed and prices returned to around the previous level.

Lard was influenced by higher cottonseed oil prices and by reports the arm is inquiring for about 3,000,000 pounds on top of purchases of 12,000,000 pounds late last week.

Wheat was sold because of disappointment that the wheat subsidies announced yesterday for the first time apparently failed to attract much business. Corn was unchanged but continued favorable crop weather, including good rains in downstate Illinois, kept it firm.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was 1/4 cent lower to 1/8 higher than previous close. The wheat market was unchanged to 1/4 off, September $1.28 1/2, and oats were up 1/4 to 1/2, September 60 1/2. Lard was unchanged to 22 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.80.

Harmsworth Trophy Is Won By Dollar, Frisco Millionaire

Detroit, Aug. 2 (AP)—Stanley Dollar and his solid speedboat Skip-a-Long now have unquestionable title to powerboat racing's biggest honor—the Harmsworth Trophy.

The San Francisco millionaire and the 30-foot red speedster earned sole rights to the big plaque by besting Detroit Jack Schaffer's Such Crust I in the Harmsworth runoff race on the Detroit river yesterday.

Then they went on to capture the grueling 100-mile Detroit marathon race by again trimming a stricken Such Crust I—this time by a lap and a half.

Such Crust had to give up after one lap of the runoff because of oil line trouble, and the same difficulty hampered her marathon efforts.

The two mighty-engined craft had dueling all season. Their rivalry reached fever pitch when Such Crust took the first heat in the Harmsworth race, and Skip came back to win the second.

The runoff was to determine the possession of the British International Trophy. It also was to determine—officially or whether the next challenge was to be met in Detroit or Dollar's home port, Lake Tahoe, Calif.

The Yachtman's Association of America would make a final decision on that point.

West Los Angeles Rocked by Blast; Hoodlums Jittery

Los Angeles, Aug. 2 (AP)—Hundreds of gambler Mickey Cohen's jittery neighbors — and Mickey, too—were awakened early today by a mystery blast which rocked the west Los Angeles neighborhood.

But there was no damage at or near the little hoodlum's house. In fact, police couldn't find a trace of the explosion although there was a faint odor of gunpowder in the air.

Both Mickey and his neighbors have been jittery since rival gangsters shot up the gambler's party as it left a Sunset Strip night spot July 20. Edward (Neddie) Herbert, 35-year-old lieutenant of Cohen's, was injured fatally by the gunfire. Cohen and two others were injured.

Mickey was wearing natty, yellow silk pajamas when police and reporters answered today's blast call. He also had a gun in hand.

The blast, he said, was a mystery to him except that it awakened him and his wife along with the rest of the neighborhood.

"The dogs didn't bark and the radar didn't go off," he added. "An elaborate radar-alarm system surrounds the grounds of his home."

U. S. Trackmen Lead Finland In Dual Go

Helsinki, Aug. 2 (AP)—United States athletes held a decisive lead over Finland today as their dual track and field met entered its second and final day of competition.

The American stars had an advantage of seven victories in 11 events to work on after yesterday's opening program. They were first in the 200 meter dash, 400 meter run, 3,000 meter steeplechase, high hurdles, shot put, broad jump and 400 meter relay. The Finns accounted for the 1,500 meter run, 5,000 meter run, high jump and hammer throw.

to make a market; scattered lots medium to good natives $23.00 to $24.50; asking $25.50 for four loads choice western lambs; load medium western ewes fully steady at $9.00.
